Term 3

Explanations of assignments

(If you are in class, you would get more detailed explanation with powerpoints, demonstrations, examples and other methods of learning.)

Categories:

Assignments are in Blue Turn in the in-shelf when you finish

Sketchbook entries are in Green

Turn the entire sketchbook to the turn in shelf on 02/08 & 02/09

Projects are in Purple Turn in the in-shelf when you finish

Charts are in Orange

Glue them near the back of your sketchbook

Extra Credit is in Pink

Tape an extra credit form to the extra credit & turn into the shelf.

Charts

• Informal assessments: You can get a form in class. These forms are to help you stay focused during class and assess yourself on your progress of the goal for the day. At the end of class, I will ask you if you met the daily goal and rate yourself according to: 5=definitely, 4=mostly, 3=somewhat, 2=not much, 0=not at all. I will initial stating that I discussed your progress with you, but you rate yourself.

• Cleaning: At the end of class, you will ask another peer to observed that you cleaned your desk/mess and that you helped clean the class somehow; they will write their name in your chart for that day.

Extra Credit

- Go back to the website and click on extra credit options
- You can ONLY do the extra credit that is listed on the website.
- You can only earn up to 200 points extra credit
  - If I offer a specific assignment at the very end of the semester, that will not count as the 200 points.
- Approximately 1 minute of effort = 1 points.

Pretest #1 AP Art:

- Imagine you are a professional artist. A gallery is hiring their artists for the year (12 artists, 1 per month). Why should they choose you?
- On one side write:
  - Come up with a theme for your show
  - Write your ideas for the 12 art pieces you will create
  - Write a 5 sentence (or longer) artist statement
  - Why should the curators choose you over the other 30 professional artist possibilities?
- On other side draw:
  - Create 12 thumbnail sketches of your ideas
- You have 35 minute

Projects & Due dates: 250 points each

- Project #1 due 01/25
- Project #2 due 02/08
- Project #3 due 02/28
- Project #4 due 03/09
- Project #5 due 03/16

Rubric and Written reflection: 30 points each

- Project #1 due 01/25
- Project #2 due 02/08
- Project #3 due 02/28
- Project #4 due 03/09
- Project #5 due 03/16

#2 Draw an idea sketch being influenced by

this artist: Alyssa Dennis

Her goal is to promote education on edible and medicinal plants. She explores architecture and constructed spaces as an ecosystem-a multi-functional environment where nothing operates independently. "A quickening of the search is the evolution of free will. An ordering of experience."

#3 Draw an idea sketch being influenced by this artist: Holton Rower

Claiming, "I probably use more paint than anybody in the history of art," Holton Rower, grandson of Alexander Calder, is best known for his "pour paintings," created by pouring up Ranging from small- to large-scale, and appearing as vortexes or the ringed segments of tree trunks, they are records of control and chance, human ingenuity and natural forces.

#4 Draw an idea sketch being influenced by this artist: Zane Lewis

I attempt to explore the power of cultural icons and their relevance to contemporary equivalents of the religious sublime. By using personas that range from the charismatic to the unsettling to the worshipped, I throw into question the cultural paradigms of contemporary culture.

#5 Draw an idea sketch being influenced by this artist: Brent Fogt

I draw extravagant forms that, from a distance, resemble islands, continents or microscopic organisms.

#6 Draw an idea sketch being influenced by this artist: Jim Wright

My paintings tell American narratives through a unique style. Romantic notions of self-sustaining existences, deep in Appalachian fantasy worlds, become metaphors for recurring cycles of history. Works depict clans, uprisings, power struggles and ultimately the fleeting nature of stability and decadence. Demise is inescapable. Like a musician mining our cultural history and traditions to make something new, I combine folktales, American imagery and knowledge of music to invent a mechanical technique to tell these stories.

#6 Draw an idea sketch being influenced by this

artist: Frank Ryan

My interest in representational painting lies in its ability to invoke the visual aspect of an absent world. I sometimes feel like an intruder on that absent world shown looking back in this painting. The virtual embodiment of the viewer in the visual structure of the image is the foundation of naturalism. I see the dark movie theater as a metaphor for pictorial space. The audience is both viewer and subject, and the flash discloses our voyeurism.

#11 Draw an idea sketch being influenced by this artist: Andy DuCett

In a world that is becoming more and more connected, weaving information, imagery and experience in and out of our lives, I am interested in how the relevant moments in my life overlap and form connections with others who are living in the same system.

#13: Draw a simple line face with the correct generic proportions

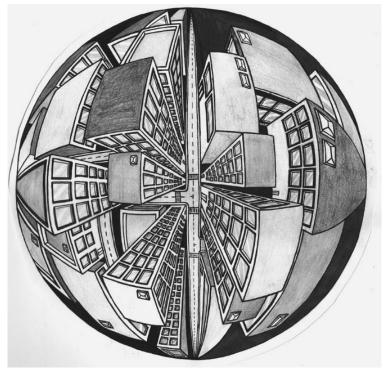

- The proportion of a face is typically 1 part width by 1.5 part height
  - (you could start with 5" x 7.5")
- Center of face is the top of nose & where eyes line up
- Top of eyebrow & bottom of nose is about a third of face
- Edge of eye lines up with edge of nostril
- Space in between eyes is the same width as eye
- Divide from the nose to the chin in half. That is the bottom lip.
- Divide from bottom lip to bottom nose in half that is the top lip.
- Divide that in half and that is where the lips meet.
- The edges of the lip lines up with the pupil
- The top of the ear lines up with the top of the eye brow.
- The bottom of the ear lines up with the bottom of the nose.
- Divide from the eyebrow to the top of the head in half and that is the hair line.
